PART 4 – GENERAL MATTERS

11. DISCIPLINARY PROCESS

If it comes to the attention of the Managing Committee that any Member's behavior, either in or out of the Clubhouse (whether at Club activities or otherwise), breaches Rule 2.12 or is otherwise damaging to the character, interests or objects of the Club, the Managing Committee must follow the process set out below:

- 11.1 The Managing Committee must promptly establish a disciplinary sub-committee. The disciplinary sub-committee must consist of the President, as chairperson, a Past Commodore, and three Members at large from the Full Membership category chosen by the Managing Committee provided that none of the disciplinary sub-committee Members shall be either the Member whose behavior is under question (the Member under investigation) or the Member who brought or participated in bringing such alleged behavior to the attention of the Managing Committee (the complainant). In such event, the Managing Committee will select other officers or Members as appropriate.
- 11.2 Within seven days of being established the disciplinary sub-committee must make contact with both the Member under investigation and the complainant together with any other people the disciplinary sub-committee considers reasonably necessary and invite them to make further submissions on the matter (such submissions may be provided either orally or in writing, at the election of the submitter).
- 11.3 The disciplinary sub-committee must:
 - (a) act in a manner which is fair and impartial;
 - (b) provide sufficient information to those making a submission to enable all submissions to be meaningful;
 - (c) allow sufficient time for all submissions to be provided;
 - (d) consider and give even weight to all submissions received;
 - (e) keep all written submissions and a full record of all oral submissions together with all other material received filed together either electronically or in hardcopy and provide the same to the Managing Committee if required;
 - (f) subject to Rule 11.3(g), keep all submissions, other material, and the fact that the disciplinary process has been invoked confidential; and
 - (g) keep the Member under investigation fully informed of all relevant details together with the progress of the disciplinary process, except that the identity of the complainant or any other submitters must be kept confidential on request of the complainant or relevant submitter, whichever the case may be.
- 11.4 Once the disciplinary sub-committee has received all invited submissions, it must, within 10 days of receipt of such submissions, decide whether it is reasonable to impose a sanction on the Member under investigation and then notify the Managing Committee and the Member under investigation of its decision and the reasons for its decision.

- 11.5 The Member under investigation may appeal the decision of the disciplinary sub-committee by notice in writing to the Managing Committee which must promptly, on receipt of such appeal, review the material provided to the disciplinary sub-committee pursuant to Rule 11.3 and invite the Member under investigation and the complainant together with any other people the Managing Committee considers reasonably necessary to make further submissions (such submissions may be provided either orally or in writing, at the election of the submitter).
- 11.6 The Managing Committee must follow Rule 11.3 and, within 10 days of receipt of all submissions, decide whether it is reasonable to impose a sanction on the Member under investigation and then notify the Member under investigation of its decision and the reasons for its decision. The decision of the Managing Committee will be final.
