Love Offering Supporting a New Missionary . . . Our Own Ana Serrano

Dear FPC Family and Friends,

You may recall that I have been part of FPC since I was in the 8th grade and began attending Youth Group with my brother, Jaycob. With FPC, I served on two mission trips and felt a call to explore ministry through YWAM.

I am currently in the music Discipleship Training School in Lakeside, MT. I will be part of the class during the lecture phase for three months and outreach for two months. During lecture, we have different speakers coming in and sharing the heart of God with us and prepping us to show this same love to others. First, I need continued prayer support. Second, would be financial support for my housing, food, travel expenses and the cost for a VISA to get into Thailand. I will be doing children's ministry, women's prison ministry, and slum worship in Thailand: Celebrating Christmas and New Years with them. I plan to show the love of God through our music and service. Would you consider supporting my mission study with a gift of any size? My total cost is $6,750.00.
